The North American Revise for February continues the symposium on the Revision of Creeds begun in the preceding number. Prol. A. Winchell considers the Experiment of Universal Suffrage, and Bishop B. J. McQuald of Rochester, writes of the Decay of Protestantism. Ex-Governor Seymour and ex-Secretary Boutwell take up the Political Situation from their partical particular and points of men and leave it about where they found it. Then there is Senator Camden's Standard Oil Company article, and a very interesting contribution by Dr. D. A. Sargent, dealing with Physical Education in Colleges. There is plenty of good things that to name them sellently in the number.

Nicholas is keeping its New Year premiss. The current number is so full of good things that to name them sellently in the fact that as Adderman he had secured the passage of an ordinance requiring good things that to name enough te carry this favorite juvenile.
